

PLANTING WITH CARBON NEUTRAL

INFORMATION FOR LAND OWNERS

Thank you for considering Carbon Neutral for revegetation works on your property.

Carbon Neutral was formed in 2001 to encourage organisations and individuals to contribute to tree planting to offset greenhouse gas emissions. As a not for profit company Carbon Neutral provides a range of tools, products and services for organisations and individuals to understand, manage, reduce and offset their carbon footprint.

Carbon Neutral started as a programme of Men of the Trees Inc. We partner with Trees for Life in South Australia and Landscapes for Life in Victoria. Collectively these organisations have planted over 39 million native trees & shrubs over the past 30 years.

Carbon Neutral works with land owners and local authorities across Australia to plant high quality, native vegetation carbon sinks to revegetate land. Our work with land owners sets out to address multiple environmental issues such as salinity, soil erosion, habitat and biodiversity loss.

We believe it is important for you to make an informed choice about the best way you can plant native vegetation to improve the long term sustainability of your property.

Our website is set up to provide you the land owner with information to help you to make an informed choice.

Go to www.carbonneutral.com.au. You will note that there is a special section of our website dedicated to informing land owners like you who want to make a positive change for their farm.

This pack also contains :-

- More detailed information of the financial and business benefits available in the 2010 Land Owner Offer document.
- Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's). This is a handy document as it includes questions most often asked by land owners over the years.

It is important that you notify your Bank of your intention to plant a carbon sink and the subsequent lodging of a 100 year carbon right and carbon covenant over the certificate of title. This information is provided so that you can easily direct your bank to the information they need to approve this process.

We are proud of our association with our largest planting partner - Men of the Trees. Men of the Trees have made a significant contribution to the revegetation of degraded farm land over the last thirty years. Their continuing goal is to work with farmers in the wheatbelt of Western Australia to improve environmental outcomes for farmers through revegetation.

Men of the Trees employ qualified revegetation specialists who choose the right plants for your land.

They also undertake the monitoring and care aspects of the planting for the first five years and provide reports to us so that we can pay you.
